SUCCESS OF CHURCH DUE TO MEMBERS

Saved Should Work to Save Those Who Are Not, Says Dr. James L. Gardiner.

"The problem of the church today is to get a saved man to go out after an unsaved man and lead him to the church," said Rev. James L. Gardiner, D. D., pastor of the St. Paul's church, last night at the regular meeting of the Young Men's Bible class at the Y. M. C. A. He spoke on "The Personal Emphasis of Christianity."

"Christianity is a means of individual work. Life itself is an individual matter; death is an individual matter, as is the final judgment. Winning souls to Christ is a personal matter to be worked out on each person in a different way. The biggest man in the church is not the big financier, the man who utters the most prayers, but the one who does the most personal work for the church."

"Qualifications that a man must use in winning a soul to Christ are experience, tact, faith and the staying quality."

"A man selling coffee must know what he is selling before he can make a success. If he goes to a house and says he don't know how the coffee is as he has never tasted it, the purchaser will not buy, where if he says that from experience he knows that it is a good brand he will sell a great amount and will thereby accomplish his purpose. The same is true of a man who is trying to win a soul to Christ, if he cannot give his personal experiences to show the value of being a Christian he will not be successful."

"The man to be a faithful worker in the church must be filled with the spirit of Christ if he wins. A man to save a soul must have faith in God, in the man he would save and in himself. I believe in this method of saving because all of the saved people of the church can work at it and all of the people of a community can be saved by it."

"THE CANDY SHOP."

With chorus and comedy confessions to suit the most exacting amusement epicure, "The Candy Shop" comes to the Oliver Tuesday evening. At the top of the list of entertainers are William Rock and Maude Fulton, long since recognized as the leaders of America's greatest travesty stars; little Daphne Pollard, the clever Australian singing and dancing comedian; Bessie Franklyn, Jane Grant and Alfred Girard, and a bunch of singing and dancing associates. There is never a dull moment it is said in "The Candy Shop," the entertainment being a succession of alternating song hits, rapid-fire quips and innuendoes and of ludicrously funny situations and smart stage business that scores with astonishing rapidity and clock-like regularity.

THE AUDITORIUM.

"The Derelict," a modern two act drama, "The Courtship of the Cooks," an Edison comedy, the Pathe daily news, "The House of Silence," a Biograph drama and "Patsy's First Love," a Lubin comedy are the pictures being shown at the Auditorium today.

Tomorrow brings "Billy's Wager," a Vitagraph comedy with Billy Quirk, "The Barrier Between," a Biograph drama, "Put Me Off at Wayville," a Kalem comedy with Marshall Neilan, "From the Shadow," a Biograph drama telling a pathetic story.

Hopeless love for the daughter of his partner, leads the young broker to make a heroic sacrifice when he discovers that her brother, employed in the office, has stolen some funds. The boy is engaged to a nice girl, his father bears an honored name, his sister's happiness is too dear to Molnar for him to permit exposure of the ugly truth. So he bids her farewell, writes a letter taking the crime upon himself and prepares to die. But she knows some things and guesses others, and in a series of dramatic scenes she moves swiftly to bring the hero back from the shadow of death.

"The Scorpion's Sting" is a two act Kalem featuring Alice Hollister. A burglar slays the man whose house he has entered. The man's daughter is tried for the crime and acquitted. Later at a resort she meets the murderer but remains in ignorance of his identity until she sees her mother's ring on his finger. The two have fallen in love, but the girl plans to slay him in revenge. At the same time, the burglar ignorant of her identity plans to lay bare his past and beg her to help him lead a new life. The story ends in a manner which leaves the observer in doubt as to whether the girl slays the man or helps him reform.

AT THE SURPRISE.

Today's pictures at the Surprise include a two reel western drama, "Within an Inch of His Life." It deals with western ruffians, brave pioneers, and a courageous comedy, "Gussie the Golfer," a Keystone comedy, will also be shown. Interesting scenes of "The Trey O' Hearts" will be shown at the Surprise on Sunday.

AT THE COLONIAL.

"The Panther," a two reel western drama, with Indians, cowboys, renegades and all the elements of adventure on the plains, will be shown at the Colonial Sunday. The funny Princess comedy, "The Bum Mistake," will afford laughing interest. Sunday a two reel drama of the sea, entitled "An Old Fisherman's Story," will be featured.

AT THE LASALLE.

Today's feature at the LaSalle is the celebrated Mary Pickford picture, "Such a Little Queen." Mary Pickford is the most beloved of all motion picture stars and makes the greatest impression on her illustrious career in Channing Pollock's famous play of comedy and sentiment, "Such a Little Queen." It is produced in five reels by the Famous Players' Film Co. The basic theme of the play is the experience of a young queen exiled by reason of political dissension in her own kingdom, who finds a refuge in America. The little queen proves that there is not much real difference between royalty and the common people when they are wrecked by the buffet of circumstances. For sheer charm of story, quaintness and daintiness of the central character, honest sentiments and thrilling truths, this current production of the Famous Players' Film Co. is one of the gems of the present season. The king is impersonated by Carlyle Blackwell, who supports "Little Mary" admirably.

On the same performance will be seen a Joker comedy, "Two of a Kind." Sunday will show the second installment of the serial story which is now running in the Sunday edition of The News-Times, "Runaway June." It is without doubt George Randolph Chester's greatest serial, and the pictures at the LaSalle are attracting wide attention. On the same bill will be seen "Captain of Villany," a two reel subject, featuring Warren Kerrigan.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

Large audiences have attended the current bill at the Orpheum, which is well arranged and has proven one of the best entertainments of the season. The Scotch Lads and Lassies, the singing, dancing and musical act, employing 11 people, dressed in the national costumes of the highlanders, is a particularly lively feature. "The Smoke Queen," presented by Jimmie Cassidy and Vivian Longton, has given satisfaction and aroused considerable local interest on account of having been written in South Bend. Bob Hall, the extemporaneous entertainer, improves his songs and patter at each performance and is witty, original and a good performer. Sullivan and Mason sing comedy songs and the Tyler St. Claire Trio play melodiously on specially constructed xylophones.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

The final performance at the Majestic will be given today of the current bill, entitled "Fun in a Studio." Tonight rounds out the 16th consecutive week of the permanent musical stock company. The present bill is a lively up to date fare, with a number of attractive musical and dancing specialties woven through the action of the amusing comedy.

REVIVAL SERVICES AT FIRST BAPTIST END

Past Summers and Lost Harvests.

Subject of Dr. A. M. Bailey.

"The Past Summers and the Lost Harvests" was the subject of the sermon preached by Rev. A. M. Bailey, D. D., of Peru, Ind., who has been conducting revival services for the past three weeks at the First Baptist church, and sentiment, "Such a Little Queen" is produced in five reels by the Famous Players' Film Co. The basic theme of the play is the experience of a young queen exiled by reason of political dissension in her own kingdom, who finds a refuge in America. The little queen proves that there is not much real difference between royalty and the common people when they are wrecked by the buffet of circumstances. CLAIMS SHIP IS GERMAN PROPERTY

Note From Sir Edward Grey Emphasizes England's Attitude Towards the Dacia—Crew May Be Held.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23.—A communication from Sir Edward Grey directed to the state department Friday made Great Britain's hostile attitude towards the Dacia plainer if possible than the statement of facts given out Thursday night at the British embassy.

The main points in Sir Edward's communications are substantially the same as those paraphrased Thursday night for the press by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, the British ambassador.

State department officials took special note Friday of the phrase of their declaration and its important variation from previous official pronouncements of the British government on the seizure of ships.

The officials realize that Great Britain may "capture" the vessel as a prize of war because she still regards the Dacia as the property in insufficient degree at least of Germany. She might however, merely seize the vessel as other seizures have been made within the past four months and release both the cargo and the crew.

One of the officials said Friday night that it was problematic what the English view would be as to the detention or release of the crew. He said that the case would be different from any other which has arisen, because the United States had been officially warned by Sir Edward Grey and by Sir Cecil Spring-Rice that they would regard the Dacia as in some manner yet undefined, the property of the enemies of England.

This official thinks that the British foreign office might take the view that the crew ought to be held. This would make the Dacia case one of far reaching importance, as the seizure of the Green Brier has become, because of the allegation that the American flag on the Green Brier suffered an affront.

Several officials at the department commented privately Friday on the view of John Bassett Moore printed Friday in which he declared substantially that the present methods of dealing with captures by courts in the English fashion and the placing of contact mines in commercial waters were wholly indefensible. There was an agreement with views of the former counselor by those officials, but Secretary of State Bryan would not discuss Mr. Moore's proposition.

AUTO PARTY IS DELAYED

Coast to Coast Drivers Meet With Many Accidents.

Unfavorable weather, accidents, turnovers and many other incidents are the causes of the delay in the automobile race by Raoul P. Lemat of New York, and Stanley James of Washington, D. C. The two men who are accompanied by Miss Margaret Gale, a stage beauty from New York, who are making the trip from coast to coast in the winter time. They were scheduled to reach South Bend Thursday but will not get here until some time tonight.

The men are racing from one city to the next along their route the time being averaged up at each place. Word was received by the scout, that the party was caught in a storm in Ohio and had to dig their way through several feet of snow.
